DESERTED BARY

with Husband.

Saturday a pathetic case was reported to the police and as a result a baby boy is left to the tender mercles of his father. George Ferris, a weaver in the employ of the Windham Silk company, told the police that he had been deserted by his wife and that she had left him, has and baggage, with their two and a half year old daughter, but had left behind her their seven months old baby boy at their home on Raynes court.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris were married a few years ago and have to children. They recently moved from the Main street to Raynes court. Saturday morning before her husband started off to work Mrs. Ferris told him that she intended to spend the foremon with his parents on Broad street When Ferris arrived home at noon his wife and daughter were missing and the baby boy was crying in hed where the mother had left him a little after nine o'clock.

nine o'clock,

Upon investigation it was ascertained that Mrs. Ferris and the little girl, had left home at 3.25 in a hack and that she took a trunk with her. Passage was taken on the 3.45 train for Providence, R. I., but the trunk was not placed aboard the same train, being forwarded later for Pawtucket, R. I., on the 11.50 train.

Domestic relations have apparently, been somewhat constrained of late, and it is believed that the separation is but a temporary disagreement that will be amicably settled and that the infant boy will have the attention he

CLOSE OF CARNIVAL Big Crowd Shows Interest in St. Jo-

Saturday night was the last night of the great carnival that has been running in the town hall all the past week for the benefit of St. Joseph's hospital. The crowd was almost as large as the one present Wedwsday evening, when the largest that has ever turned out was in the big hall. There was no especial entertainment Saturday evening, aside from dancing that was enjoyed by a large number, although the space was terribly congested. The various premiums for which canvassers had been selling chances all the week were awarded and the main drawing was held shortly before twelve at the close of the carnival.

The newest wrinkle, that was introduced Saturday evening for the first time, with marked success, was the scheme of having men in expressmen's uniforms with cap bearing the inscription "The Hospital Express Co.," busy delivering packages to people in the hall. The packages were listed on the delivery book and the charges carried out in the proper column. It was a case of settle cheerfully and most of the lucky men did.

It is impossible to state exactly what was realized on the week's business but it is conservatively estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000. The finance committee will probably be able to tell within a day or two. The ladies' auxiliary and all who assisted in making the affair successful feel a just pride in the result, which is said to be even better than last year's effort. seph's Hospital Benefit.

Long before the hour set for the services, 11 o'clock, many were at the church to view the face of the dead pastor for the last time, the body lying in state in the church from 9 o'clock. At the beginning of the service every available space within the little church was occupied and many who had hoped to gain admittance were obliged to remain outside.

The office for the dead was chanted by the clergymen present. Rev. C. H. Bedard of Hartford was celebrant of the solemn high mass of requiem, Rev. J. J. O'Rielly of Montville deacon, Rav. J. P.
